Deck 1: Pastoring and Pride strategy

Pastoring allows your church to overcome strongholds and habits that are not becoming of followers of Christ. By overcoming these obstacles, your church can better fulfill its purpose and grow into a powerful tool for God.

Pride, the original sin, is a stealthy killer. Before your opponent is even aware of it, you can prevent spiritual maturity and fellowship in their church. With such an unhealthy spiritual atmosphere, it will be incredibly difficult for your opponent to grow the church.

Deck 2: Teaching and Apathy strategy

Ignorance of God's word is certainly an epidemic today. Sadly, even among those who profess faith in Christ. There is a cure. Discipleship of God's word helps believers in your church to spiritually mature and grounds them solidly on the Rock.

"It's not my job," or "someone else will do it, I don't want to/feel like it." How about, "I wish I could help our church more, but I'm just so busy!" Apathy has infected many with its debilitating lies. By dodging our responsibilities in the church, we cripple the entire body of Christ. Remember, every member counts! Your opponent will be acutely aware of this problem in no time.

Deck 3: Prayer and Fear strategy

It is the most powerful weapon in any Christian's arsenal, yet it is often used only as a last resort. Intercessory prayer allows you to speak directly with the creator and sustainer of the universe on behalf of your church. God hears the prayers of His people. Make your church a praying church and watch His mighty hand in action!

Phobias are great examples of debilitating fear. I once heard a story of a man who refused to leave his bedroom for 3 days because he had seen a spider in the hallway. His irrational fear was so great; he shut his bedroom door (to the world) and waited until the pest control company could make a house call. Fear can put our lives 'on hold' if we let it. It doesn't matter how many gifts your opponent's church members have if they are too afraid to use them.

Deck 4: Prophecy and Lust strategy

God grants His wisdom to those whom He chooses. Those who are gifted with such blessing are the visionaries of our day. This strategy allows you to strike preemptively, almost as if you see what's coming. It will also allow you to prevent your opponent from mounting a successful offense since you will be removing cards from his hand and draw piles.

By allowing the windows to our souls to become corrupt, lust's powerful grip can mesmerize us. Then, while star-struck, we're fooled into believing in 'love (lust) at first sight.' Once your opponent's church members begin falsely associating lust with love, their single-mindedness will lure them well off track and dismantle the church's efforts.
